

Baby I need someone to take me home
Ready for a night I won't be alone
I've been really craving that piece of ya
I've been craving
Baby I need someone to take me home
Ready for a night I won't be alone
I've been really craving that piece of ya
I've been craving

I took off when I first heard your name
I kept making assumptions and I thought I knew the game but Three lives later I have never been the same
Been the same
Been the same
Dance dance dance honey said it was the last time
Talking to my hips like they knew them, not the first sign
Brought me to some lovin and luxury I was divine
Tasting all their feelings, emotions like it's a good wine\

Baby I need someone to take me home
Ready for a night I won't be alone
I've been really craving that piece of ya
I've been craving
Baby I need someone to take me home
Ready for a night I won't be alone
I've been really craving that piece of ya
I've been craving

Give me all you wanna give me
Give me all you wanna give me
Butterflies sending chills up my spine
I just love how you make a good person feel bad

Sending signals but they are not mixed
I know what you want I know what your fix is Telling my mom cause she's in my business
You make the calls I'll follow your wishes
You just gotta let me in
Baby not a hit or miss

I know it's a scary thing
But I'm done with all the burying
Done with all the burying

Baby I need someone to take me home
Ready for a night I won't be alone
I've been really craving that piece of ya
I've been craving

Baby I need someone to take me home
Ready for a night I won't be alone
I've been really craving that piece of ya
I've been craving
